Childhood maladaptive daydreaming scale (C-MDS)

NAME	AGE	DATE

Some children have a special place inside them that they go to. Adults call it daydreaming. Please think about the times when you 'go away' by going to a special place inside you, or make your own 'world' inside your head (daydreaming), when answering these questions:

1	Some children feel that music, reading, TV, films, browsing, electronic games, Lego or toys help them to start their daydream. Does anything help you to start your daydreaming?
	Please also circle the word/s in the question that describes what you do the best.
	<input type="checkbox"/> Never	<input type="checkbox"/> A little	<input type="checkbox"/> Sometimes	<input type="checkbox"/> A lot of the time	<input type="checkbox"/> Always
2	Some children feel annoyed when somebody or something stop their daydreaming and they want to continue their daydream later. How much do you want to continue your daydream when someone or something stopped your daydreaming?
	<input type="checkbox"/> Never	<input type="checkbox"/> A little	<input type="checkbox"/> Sometimes	<input type="checkbox"/> A lot of the time	<input type="checkbox"/> Always
3	Do you change your face, make noises like clicking, growling, humming, singing other sounds, laugh or pretend to say words while you are daydreaming?
	Please also circle the word/s in the question that describes what you do the best
	<input type="checkbox"/> Never	<input type="checkbox"/> A little	<input type="checkbox"/> Sometimes	<input type="checkbox"/> A lot of the time	<input type="checkbox"/> Always
4	If you really want to daydream but you have to stay in the real world to do things, do you become annoyed or angry that you cannot have time to daydream?
	<input type="checkbox"/> Never	<input type="checkbox"/> A little	<input type="checkbox"/> Sometimes	<input type="checkbox"/> A lot of the time	<input type="checkbox"/> Always
5	Some children feel that the daydreaming interferes with the jobs and tasks they have to do. How much does your daydreaming interfere with the jobs and tasks you have to do?
	<input type="checkbox"/> Never	<input type="checkbox"/> A little	<input type="checkbox"/> Sometimes	<input type="checkbox"/> A lot of the time	<input type="checkbox"/> Always
